This Week...

In English, the girls edited and improved their descriptions of the Iron Man. They moved sentences around, selected vocabulary and included literary devices to make their work even more enjoyable to read.

and their knowledge of place value. They explored how rounding can be useful in real life situations.

hear?, How do we see?" - the girls explored different shading techniques in art. They thought about how the direction of the light would influence the weight of the shading and applied this knowledge to their own drawings. When sketching objects with a shadow, they payed attention to where the shadow would fall, its
